Re: Notice of Employment Separation — Workforce Reduction

Dear Priya,

It is with sincere regret that I write to inform you that your position of Senior Product Manager with TechCorp, Inc. is being eliminated as part of a company-wide workforce reduction announced on March 24, 2026. This decision is in no way a reflection of your performance, which has been consistently strong throughout your tenure with us.

Your last day of active employment will be 04/03/2026. Below is a summary of the separation terms:

| Item                   | Detail                                                                          |
|------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Position               | Senior Product Manager                                                          |
| Department             | Product Management                                                              |
| Hire Date              | 06/14/2022                                                                      |
| Last Day of Employment | 04/03/2026                                                                      |
| Reason                 | Position elimination — workforce reduction (non-performance)                    |

| Severance              | $13,615.38 — equivalent to 6 weeks of base pay, paid as lump sum on 04/17/2026 |
| Health Coverage        | Active through 04/30/2026; COBRA election packet to follow within 14 days       |
| 401(k)                 | Account remains with Fidelity; rollover or distribution at your discretion      |
| Equity (RSUs)          | Unvested units forfeited per 2022 Equity Incentive Plan §4.3                    |
| Reference Eligibility  | Eligible for rehire; manager-provided references available on request           |

Enclosed with this letter you will find the Separation Agreement and Release, which describes the consideration being offered in exchange for a customary release of claims. You have 21 calendar days to consider the agreement and a 7-day revocation period after signing. Please return the signed agreement to People Operations by April 21, 2026.

Priya, on behalf of TechCorp's leadership team, thank you for your significant contributions over the past four years — particularly your work leading our payments platform redesign. We genuinely wish you every success in this next chapter and are happy to support you with introductions or references as you transition.

Sincerely,
